Discussion led by:

Kim Hudson, '96

Attorney at Law

Co-founder of the Hudson Family Foundation and Partner,

Davis, Bingham and Hudson, PC

Kim Hudson graduated from Auburn University in 1996 with a bachelor's degree in psychology and criminology. While at Auburn, she met her husband, Tim, now a pitcher for the Atlanta Braves, and the two were married in 1999. Following graduation from Auburn, Kim attended Cumberland School of Law at Samford University and earned a law degree in 2000.

Guided by their commitment to make a positive difference in the lives of children and families, Kim and Tim are active philanthropists through the Hudson Family Foundation and through direct working relationships with several other nonprofit organizations. The Hudson Family Foundation has a commitment to make "a positive and long lasting impact in the lives of children who have a genuine need for assistance with regard to a specific physical, emotional or financial circumstance." The Hudsons also promote volunteerism through the Foundation and host a number of community service projects and fundraisers.
